Kitchener Back in London and Rumor Says Gen. Geoffre Will Be Placed in Command of All Forces in West—British Squadron Bombards German Works on Belgian Coast—Roumania Again Delays Final Reply—German Submarine Is Sunk.

By Associated Press.

London, November 30. — Monastir, in southwestern Serbia, has been evacuated.

Serbian troops, having delayed their enemy's advance until the civil population could escape, have now left the city and are reported retiring in good order.

Bulgarian occupation of the town is apparently a matter of only a few hours.

Though the Austro-German and Bulgarian campaigns against Serbia is described by the central powers as finished, and though practically the whole of Serbia is in their possession, the Serbian forces are said to be still unbroken and undemoralized and are reported to be reorganizing their shattered units on the Albanian and Montenegrin frontiers preparatory to fresh action.

Either bitter winter weather has retarded the central powers in their proposed new enterprise against the Franco-British troops in the Strumlitza region, or the rapidly developing Russian menace from the direction of Roumania has caused them to abandon it.

Sir John French reports successful British air attacks on German positions along the Belgian coast, involving the destruction of a German submarine off the Belgian coast and raids on an aerodrome and an ammunition factory behind the German lines.

The British steamship Dotterel has been sunk, presumably by a submarine.

London, November 30. — Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, secretary for war, returned to London today from his trip to the Near East. He has visited Athens, Rome and Paris, and was in Paris yesterday.

It also became known today that Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British forces on the western front, was in London yesterday and conferred with Premier Asquith.

There have been reports that a movement was on foot to place General Joffre, French leader, in supreme command of the Franco-British forces on the western front, but the British government officially denied this.

Press dispatches from Athens, via Berlin, stated that Earl Kitchener went to Italy from Athens to request assistance for the British in Egypt, "which now seems to be the only country which interests England after the Balkan failures."

Athens, November 30.—Final solution of negotiations of the entente powers with the Greek government has been further delayed, it is reported tonight, pending reply of the allies to the German proposal to permit the respective general staff to define the military features of the allies' requirements in Macedonia.

London, November 30. — According to telegrams from Bucharest, Roumania has notified Russia of her earnest desire to remain neutral," says a Copenhagen dispatch.

Consequently, Russian ships will not be permitted to enter the Danube, which, it is emphasized, has been mined.

London, November 30. — German positions on the Belgian coast from Zeebrugge to Ostend were bombarded for two hours this morning by a British squadron, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam.

Berlin, November 30. — The capture of Prisrend, in western Serbia near the Albanian border, was announced today by the war office.

WATSON MAKES UNUSUAL CHARGE

By Associated Press.

Augusta, Ga., November 30.—Thomas E. Watson, on trial in federal court charged with having sent obscene matter through the mails, made his final plea for acquittal here today.

Acting as his own counsel, he argued to the jury that the way in which he had employed certain words, called obscene by the prosecution, had kept them from that class.

"I have been writing for 18 or 20 years," Watson told the jury, "and the government has sailed up the stream of my literature and attacked only that which defended the Roman Catholic church."

Here Assistant United States District Attorney Miller interrupted, to deny that the "district attorney's office was protecting the Roman Catholic church."

DEFENSE LOSES
IN APPLICATION

New York, November 30.—Counsel for the four Hamburg-American Line officials on trial for conspiring to deceive and defraud the United States, assailed by legal argument today the case which the government has presented by witnesses against them and lost every point of their contention.

Federal Judge Howe heard the arguments in the absence of the jury.

He denied the defendant's motion to strike from the records all testimony covering the chartering and movements of one of the steamers and overruled a motion to dismiss all the indictments.

The defense then opened its case.

SOLUTION IS SOUGHT

By Associated Press.

New York, November 30. — The presidents, or their representatives, of all the trunk line railroads running into New York City met today to consider means for relieving the freight congestion.

The meeting follows the action of the Pennsylvania and B. and O. yesterday in declaring embargoes on certain forms of export freight.

Between 40,000 and 50,000 freight cars are now in or near New York terminals, waiting to be unloaded.

Announcement was made today that five large steamers, flying the American flag, have been transferred from the Pacific coast business and will shortly enter the New York-London trade, to assist in relieving the export freight congestion.

CLEW FOUND
BY SLEUTHS

By Associated Press.

Bowling Green, O., November 30.—Detectives went to work today, trying to determine whether John H. Willey, whose body was found hanging to a tree near Gibsonburg, Sunday, committed suicide or was lynched by a mob.

They were looking for a man said to have held a conference with Willey during the last hour he was seen alive. The man was missing from his home.

Colonel E. S. Bryant, assistant adjutant general, returned to Columbus today, saying he is convinced the county officers are doing all in their power to unravel the mystery.

Willey's widow said to Col. Bryant today:

"John did not commit suicide. Why, he was bringing candy home for his little Dora. They have hunted him down and killed him, because they thought he ought to have been made to pay for the sin of others."

20 DIE IN POWDER
PLANT EXPLOSION

By Associated Press.

Wilmington, Delaware, November 30.—About twenty, perhaps more, are reported dead and many others injured by an explosion this afternoon in the mill of the Du Pont Powder Company, about 3 miles north of this city.

The explosion is said to have been the worst that has occurred in the Du Pont plants in thirty years. It shook the city heavily and caused much alarm.

A few minutes after the explosion a cloud of dense smoke drifted over this city. It is said the men reported killed are all young.

The Du Pont ambulances brought the injured to hospitals here as rapidly as possible.

Officials of the Du Pont company started shortly after two o'clock for the scene of the disaster, to make an investigation. At the powder yard the greatest excitement and confusion prevailed.

Seven men are at Wilmington hospitals, so badly injured they are unable to give their names.

The cause of the explosion is a mystery, as the conditions at the time were normal.

REHEARING IS REFUSED

By Associated Press.

Washington, November 30.—Applications for a re-hearing of the case involving the right of trunk line railroads to continue their interest in and operation of the steamers on the Great Lakes, despite the prohibition in the Panama Canal act, were denied today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The applications were made by shippers' attorneys, as the railroads declined to ask re-hearing.

The commission's order requiring the railroads to give up their steamers is effective December 15th.

IMPRISONED

By Associated Press.

Boomer, W. Va., November 30.—Three hundred miners were entombed today in mine No. 2 of the Boomer Coal and Coke Company here, by a blow-out shot followed immediately by two other explosions of less violence.

All but 25 or 30 of the men had made their way to the open air by 3 o'clock.

The superintendent expressed the belief that they would all be saved, as they were working back in the mine beyond where the explosion occurred.

GREAT PLOT WAS FAILURE

By Associated Press.

Paris, November 30.—An attempt on the part of Germans to destroy munitions factories in Italy is reported in a dispatch from San Remo, Italy, and have been discovered by the Turin police.

It was learned that the plan apparently was being directed from Lugano, Switzerland.

The Swiss police arrested a boatman. In his possession were found two boxes labelled "chocolates," and which he was about to ship to Turin. The boxes were filled with dynamite.

The dispatch adds that the arrest of a number of other persons, some of them connected with the German consulate, is imminent.

ANOTHER EPISODE IN SUNDAY SHOW

The second chapter of the fight to show moving pictures in Chillicothe on Sunday, occurred Sunday afternoon when Clarence Myers, of the Majestic theater in that city, was arrested a second time for operating his theater on Sunday, and gave $200 bond for his appearance at the hearing.

Following his arrest he continued to show the pictures throughout the afternoon and evening.

Monday he demanded a jury trial, and Mayor Cahill is now preparing to comply, although it is said there is no money in the treasury for a jury trial. It is expected that if there is no money in the treasury the defendant will be bound over to the grand jury. The case was continued over until Saturday.

A delegation of clergymen called on the Majestic management prior to the second Sunday opening, in an effort to obtain voluntary closing of the theater. They failed to obtain the result desired.

MEMOIR.
Orpha Leroy Peart was born near Waterloo, Fayette county, Ohio, December 31, 1872. From the time he was about a year old until manhood, he made his home with his grandparents, Jesse Peart and wife, who gave him the advantages of the schools in Waterloo, where he received his education.

He was married to Ollie May Snider January 22, 1896, and lived at Atlanta, Pickaway county for one year, and while living there, he joined the Odd Fellows Lodge of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Peart moved back to Fayette county, and shortly afterward Mr. Peart began work for the Washington Milling Company, in whose employ he was at the time of his death. For more than fourteen years he had been one of its most faithful employees, and was assistant miller.

When Mr. Peart located in Washington, and decided to make this city his home, he transferred his lodge membership to Temple Lodge No. 227 I. O. O. F., February 27, 1906, and his interest in lodge work qualified him to pass through the chairs and become one of its Worthy Past Grands.

He was also a member of Fayette Encampment I. O. O. F. and a member of the Imperial Rebekah Lodge of this city. No man thought more of his lodge, its work and its teachings, than did Mr. Peart.

He practiced "Friendship" toward his brothers; he exemplified "Love" toward his home and family and he exercised "Truth" in his conduct and connections with his fellowmen.

Mr. Peart was one of the first members in organizing the Imperial Degree Staff of Temple Lodge and for over five years never missed a drill or rehearsal. He was the captain of the Red Guards during all that time; and no one took greater interest or contributed greater effort to the success of the staff than did Mr. Peart.

In 1913 he united with Grace M. E. church through the influence of Rev. Ross, and he remained a faithful member of the church and Sunday school until his death, on Tuesday morning, November 23, 1915.

Those who knew him best, sorrow and mourn his departure; but they may be sustained and soothed by that unflinching "Truth of the Faithful." For Orpha Peart "fought a good fight," and won; he had "finished his course," with honor and distinction, and like the apostle of old, has "gone to wear the crown" prepared for him.

CARD OF THANKS.
I wish to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to my friends and neighbors, to the Odd Fellows, Imperial Degree Staff, and the Rebekah Lodge, for the kind attentions during the sickness and death of my husband, O. L. Peart, and to everyone who sent the beautiful flowers.
OLLIE MAY PEART.

Paris Modistes Black List German Importer

So bitter is the anti-German sentiment among Parisians that report has it that even the future wife of the President of the United States will find her trousseau affected by it, if she expects Paris gowns.

According to the last newspaper word Charles Kurzman, of New York, said to have been commissioned to buy gowns for Mrs. Norman Galt, has been blacklisted by the Paris Dress Makers' Syndicate because of his German origin.

Paul Poret, president of the dress makers' syndicate, is absent from Paris, but his confidential secretary confirmed the statement that Kurzman has threatened to raise a diplomatic question over the decision of the modistes to fill orders for gowns which he maintains are for Mrs. Galt. Wouldn't that be a pretty kettle of fish in which to stir up a diplomatic embroglio!

The Paris Dressmakers' Syndicate is far from adverse to making the gowns for President Wilson's fiancée. On the contrary the secretary announces that the syndicate would be most happy if permitted to do so, and would be equally happy to present them with its compliments.

According to other newspapers Mrs. Galt is quoted as saying that she is ordering only American made gowns, in which case there would be no need of any blacklisting on the part of the Paris modistes.

But Germany must have no possible connection with the gowns put out by French artists—even through the hands of an intermediary who is now an American citizen, but comes directly from German stock.

The incident is one to emphasize most strongly the intense feeling against Germany found in every class in France—a feeling springing into life when Alsace and Lorraine passed into the hands of the enemy and fostered by the present war into a mighty hatred that surpasses all other feeling.

Carnival for Worthy Purpose

The annual carnival of the Ladies' Auxilliary opens Wednesday and for two days will hold forth alluring inducement to all who enjoy varied entertainment, in settings of the utmost gayety and beauty, accompanied by the merry sociability which is always one of the most attractive carnival features.

While undoubtedly there is sufficient attraction offered to pack the big Y. M. C. A. building and the adjoining Stimson building, also to be thrown open, there is added reason found in its purpose, why everybody should patronize the carnival.

The Ladies' Auxilliary has taken under its wing the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. and is giving the carnival for the purpose of raising money for the equipment of this department in the new Stimson building, known as the Y. M. C. A. Annex.

The women have undertaken to furnish the reading and amusement room on the first floor and to equip the basement for a manual training department.

Those in touch with Y. M. C. A. work know that there is nothing more important than the manual training department, giving to all boys who desire it the opportunity to equip themselves with a useful trade.

It is the intention to open two classes, one in wood-work and one in blacksmith work, as soon as the equipment can be installed—both classes affording instruction in useful trades.

In attending the carnival and patronizing it liberally the people of Washington will find popular entertainment as well as encourage the women in their worthy efforts.

World's Peace Can Be Secured by International Popular Opinion

By GEORGE W. NASMYTH, Secretary of World Peace Foundation

MY plan for effecting world peace substantially accords with President Wilson's ideas.

First.—We must have an international court of justice, since The Hague tribunal is nothing more than a list of names from which such a court can be chosen.

SECOND.—WE MUST SECURE A PERMANENT COUNCIL OF CONCILIATION AND INVESTIGATION WHICH MUST BE BACKED UP BY POPULAR OPINION THE WORLD OVER.

Third.—America must act as the logical leader in this movement of pacification and must be organized to give President Wilson authority.

Fourth.—There must be some plan to enforce peace, such as an international agreement, which shall punish any nation which goes to war without first submitting its dispute to the international court of justice for settlement.

ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL INFLUENCES AND EVEN MILITARY INFLUENCE MUST BE BROUGHT TO BEAR ON OFFENDERS THROUGH THIS INTERNATIONAL COMBINATION.

Poetry For Today

ASPIRATION.

Yonder a sail flies to the burning moon,
And here a silver moth, with frightened grace,
Circles my lamp, and there upon the dune
A lover looks into his lady's face.

I, too, have wings that struggle in to flight,
Blind as the white moth at the lantern's bars,
I, too, drawn by that yearning for the light,
Have sent my soul to beat against stars;

The mariner will never touch the moon,
The moth will die; and love against love's eyes
Will search in vain for some perennial June,
As I will search in vain for Paradise.

And yet when sails are furled, like wings at even,
And love lies dead upon the sands it trod,
The old desires shall light us into heav'n.
Old failures shine upon the face of God.

HOSPITAL WORK HELPS CZARINA

Care of Soldiers Cures Her of Melancholy.

JOY IN IMPERIAL HOME.

Year Which Was Held in Close Intimacies of Court Circles That She Was Drifting Into Hopeless Insanity Now Dispelled—Her Two Daughters Also Are Actively Engaged.

Petrograd.—If the war has brought unspeakable horror to the Russian people it has also brought comfort to the imperial household of the czar. Prior to the war it was no secret that the czarina suffered from a marked form of melancholia with other mental peculiarities. The fear was held in the close intimacies of court circles that she was drifting into hopeless insanity. But since the czarina and her two daughters, the Grand Duchess Olga and the Grand Duchess Tatiana, have entered actively into their work as Red Cross nurses the word has gone throughout all the Russias that the mental sickness of the czarina has been cured.

To her constant and self sacrificing labors in the court hospital at Tsarskoe Selo, the village where the famous EMPERESS ALEXANDRA AS RED CROSS NURSE summer palace of the czar is located, is credited the relief which has come to her mentally.

The czarina and the grand duchesses took a thorough course in training in the care of the wounded soldiers. The czarina threw herself into the organization of the hospital with enthusiasm and had it equipped in the most perfect manner.

It was placed under the direction of the Princess Gedroyc, one of the highest nobility and who has won a national reputation in Russia as one of the foremost women doctors. The czarina, with her daughters, works at the hospital every day from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. and often later.

So impressed are they with the seriousness and the humanity of their services that they often return in the evenings, and when they have dangerously wounded patients they stay all night. The czarina has also equipped a bath train and presented it to the soldiers in the field.

The court hospital has accommodations for 200 soldiers and thirty officers. The regular nurse's uniform which the royal nurses wear is made of white with a red cross on the left arm. The example of the czarina and her daughters has induced many women of the Russian nobility to devote themselves to Red Cross work.

Some of them have turned over their residences in Petrograd as well as their estates in the country to the soldiers for hospitals. The Grand Duchess Olga is twenty years old and her sister, Tatiana, seventeen. Both of them have been gazzetted colonels of two crack cavalry regiments in their father's service.

SNAILS AS FOOD.

They Are as Nourishing as Calfs Foot Jelly and Easy to Raise.

"All snails are edible and nutritious," says Canon Horsley in a book on British land and fresh water mollusks. He goes on to say that even the common or garden snail, though insipid, is as nourishing as calfs foot jelly.

There is a large white shelled snail called Helix pomatia that is commonly eaten by connoisseurs in the south of England, while all over France, Italy and Spain several species are used as food. In France there are many small farms which yield a good profit to their owners. In the French and Italian quarters of New York snails may be brought either alive or cooked, and at most of the French restaurants they are served, "escargots farcis" being the most usual form of the dish.

Snails are easy to raise in large quantities. They need time for molting their shells, but they do not have to be fed, as they can find their own food, which is exclusively the leaves of many plants. They are most delicious when properly prepared and cooked and, as Canon Horsley says, as nourishing as calfs foot jelly.

GIVES VIEWS ON BUILDING AND MAINTAINING HIGHWAY

Fred M. Mark, Local Contractor, Believes Many of County's Main Thoroughfares Have Material Enough Going to Waste to Place Them in Good Condition Believes in Oiling to Preserve Surface and Keep Dust Down.

Contractor Fred M. Mark, who has been deeply interested in road and street building and maintenance and is in a position to be in very close touch with the latest methods of improving and maintaining highways, has contributed an interesting article on the subject.

Every taxpayer in Fayette county who has the welfare of the county at heart, is deeply interested in the expenditure of the vast sum which will be paid into the county treasury for road building purposes during the next five years, and will be interested in Mr. Mark's treatise of the subject, which is herewith given in full.

"The all-important question of construction and maintenance of our public thoroughfares which by the vote of the people, has recently been made possible, should be carefully studied, not only by the officials in charge of the expenditure of the appropriation for that purpose, but by the public generally, and the old saying, 'Two heads are better than one,' is not entirely antiquated on the subject of road building. Ideas and suggestions from the public soon become fixed principles and later on the law that governs our actions. Therefore in giving a brief article on the subject, I do so for the purpose of creating interest in this important subject.

"Many of our so called 'worn out' roads have sufficient material if properly utilized, to make a good road. The first thing necessary is proper drainage—side-ditches cut to a proper depth and grade to carry away surface water—then shape the crown of the road to a proper and uniform cross-section so that all moisture will travel to the ditches. Berms should be kept in such shape to permit no water to stand on road bed, and should carry same or greater slope than crown of road.

"Then as a further remedy toward the upkeep I would advise the use of oil to prevent dust, not to be applied too soon after reconstruction of road but after road has been well seasoned and before traffic has brushed off all fine material from the surface, the time for application depending on nature and amount of the traffic. If allowed to go too long the road becomes rough and will remain so after oiling. If oiled too soon after the repair is made the surface becomes putty-like, which will scab off the surface under traffic.

"A macadam road is in proper condition to oil when it has a true cross-section and a uniform surface whose texture is close and compact with very loose binder. If the surface be porous the oil will penetrate too deeply and interfere with the bonding of the surface. If the surface be covered with fine material the oil will mix with it, forming a loose covering which is not durable.

"Roads can be made smooth and smoothness maintained by the use of the sufficient quantity and quality of oil, applied at the proper time under proper conditions, the quantity used should be about one-half gallon per square yard, and of a grade or quality 50 per cent "so called" asphalt.

"As a matter of fact few of the road oils contain much real asphalt speaking in a strict sense, but it contains a black, sticky something that suppresses the dust and answers the purpose very satisfactorily if properly applied.

"All roads or streets should be closed at least 24 hours after application of oil to allow time for oil to penetrate to the required depth and escape the centrifugal force of the automobile.

"This article is contributed merely to arouse interest in our arteries of commerce and thoroughfares of pleasure."

Plaintiffs claim that the defendant held a $220 mortgage on the threshing outfit, and that credits in the shape of $98.10 in check given by one Crawford, and $150 in trade, should be credited upon the mortgage. That the plaintiffs owe the defendant $56 due him as his share of earnings during the past season, and that the total amount due the defendant was $276, less credits amounting to $248.10, leaving a difference of $27.90 really due the defendant.

Plaintiffs claim the outfit taken by the defendant was worth $612.10 and ask judgment for that amount, less the $27.90 due the defendant. Gregg, Patton and Gregg represent plaintiffs.

BINGHAM DOES NOT DISAPPOINT AS FUN MAKER

He made them laugh; he kept them laughing; he left them laughing!

Such in brief is the appearance at Grace M. E. church, Monday night, of Mr. Ralph Bingham, second attraction of the Washington Lyceum Course, who probably caused more laughs—real hearty outbursts of mirth which could not be suppressed, than any other entertainer who ever came to this city.

There was a laugh in his first sentence, and, likewise, in his last, and it was with genuine regret that the big audience heard his word of farewell as he closed his ever funny "Georgia 'Possum Hunt."

Mr. Bingham was assisted in his musical numbers by his wife, at the piano, and his violin solos as well as his vocal solos brought him storms of applause, and proved to his delighted audience that he was master of the violin and song as well as prince of story telling and punsters.

Every member of the large audience was thoroughly pleased with Mr. Bingham, and the committee already has had numerous requests for his re-appearance here next season.

Mr. Bingham has been on the platform since a lad of six years, and for many years was noted as the "Boy Orator of America." He appeared here first as a lad of 12 years and also appeared later upon one or two occasions.

He has made more than 8,000 appearances in public, and has traveled more than 700,000 miles in creating laughs. He probably has caused more hearty, irresistible laughter than any man now appearing before the public.

His endless store of wit, wisdom, humor, sentiment, poetry, tragedy, music, melody, drollery and mirth makes him a general favorite and subject to frequent recalls.

Speaking about the American Quartette, which appears in this city on December 16th as the third number of the course, Mr. Bingham stated that he could assure local citizens that the party was making good in the fullest sense of the term.

DR. LE ROY CRAIG FUNERAL SERVICES

Simple and affecting funeral services were conducted over all that was mortal of Dr. LeRoy Craig, at the home of his parents, Judge and Mrs. T. N. Craig, Monday.

Former friends of the deceased as well as family friends, gathered in sorrow and sympathy until the house was filled.

Rev. J. V. Stone of Grace M. E. church, officiated, reading a brief memoir and the hymns "Lead Kindly Light" and "Sometime We'll Understand."

The minister made a short address offering much of comfort in its train of thought.

A perfect wealth of flowers, many sent from the former home of the deceased, Mitchell, Neb., surrounded the sleeper. Among the special designs were floral clocks from the B. P. O. Elks of both this city and Mitchell, and casket sprays from the Sunday school classes of Judge T. N.

SENDS MESSAGE TO THE PRINTER

Wilson Completes Address
He Will Read to Congress.

PREPAREDNESS THE THEME

President Will Call to the Attention of Congress the Recent Explosions and Fires in American Ammunition Plants—Creation of Merchant Marine and More Adequate National Defense to Be Urged.

Washington, Nov. 30.—President Wilson in his annual message to congress, to be delivered a week from Thursday, will make an appeal to the country for full measure of national preparedness, not only against an attacking foreign foe, but enemies at home. The message is now in the hands of the public printer. The message is about 4,000 words in length and confined entirely to various aspects of the subject of preparedness.

The part of the appeal that probably will attract the most attention is that in which the president deals with the nation's foes within its own domain. The president will speak frankly of the activities of those citizens of foreign birth who have engaged in plots to further the interests of a foreign power in disregard of the interests of the United States. Reference will be made to the arson plots in the munition districts and bomb plots whereby it was hoped to prevent exportation of munitions, and to all other activities of agents of foreign governments in this country which were designed to embarrass or destroy the industries in which the United States government has said that its citizens have a right to indulge.

With respect to the national defense program the president will urge on congress his view that the lessons of the war are so pointed and clear as to make it a pressing duty of congress to provide stronger instrumentalities of the maintenance of the country's prerogative of independent action. The president will declare that he yields to no one in his loyalty to the ideals of peace, but he will point out that the present war has shown that such ideals may be vain unless the nation has adequate resources with which to maintain its own rights. He will indicate that in the new conditions which have to be faced the United States must be prepared to deal with new problems.

The program for the increase of the army and navy will be put forward as the best judgment of the best military experts in the service of the government. It will be urged as the least that congress can do in developing the national defense if the lessons of the war are not to be ignored.

The Needed Revenue.

With respect to the cost of the proposed army and navy developments the president will say that the appropriations involve but small expenditures on the part of a nation so prosperous and so wealthy as the United States is today. Recommendations as to the sources from which the needed revenue is to be raised will be adopted in general terms and will follow the lines of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo's recent statement, which suggested changes in the income tax law and a tax on gasoline.

The president's theme of national preparedness will be carried beyond the programs outlined by Secretaries Garrison and Daniels. Preparation also must be adopted the president will point out by the development of facilities for carrying on our commerce and for supplying our ships of war in the event of hostilities as well as for transportation of troops. The recommendation which will be based on this calls for the enactment of the government's merchant marine measure which has been formulated by Secretary McAdoo and other administration leaders. The incorporation of this recommendation in the address means that the president will commit the administration to Mr. McAdoo's latest scheme of government ownership, which includes the creation of a shipping board which shall have control over the fixing of ocean freight rates, just as the interstate commerce commission regulates railroad rates.

BOY-ED AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

New York, Nov. 30.—The government rested its case against the Hamburg-American line and four of the line's officials, charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States, without being compelled by Presiding Judge Howe, as demanded by William Rand, chief of counsel for the defense, to say whether or not the government's accusations included the charge that Captain Boy-Ed, naval attaché for Germany here, was also a conspirator against the United States.

Again it was mention of the steamship Marina Quesada, which brought Mr. Rand up with a jump and a demand that the court compel Assistant United States Attorney Wood "to come out of the woods" and set tie once and for all in so many words whether or not the government included Captain Boy-Ed among the alleged conspirators against the United States. Mr. Rand contended there was not the slightest evidence in the case that the Hamburg-American line, Managing Director Karl Buehn and the other three defendants, owned or chartered the Marina Quesada.

DESTROYS WHOLE TURK DIVISION

The approach of Turkish reinforcements is reported.

PROBE ORDERED

Gibsonburg, O., Nov. 30.—Governor Willis ordered a rigid investigation into the reported lynching near here Saturday night of John Henry Willey, aged twenty-eight. Adjutant General Hough was ordered to make the investigation. Colonel E. S. Bryant of the adjutant general's office is conducting the probe.

Willey was found on a farm six miles from here Sunday morning. He had not been seen alive since Saturday afternoon. He was recently tried for the murder of his wife's grand mother, Mrs. Eva Kimble, and convicted of assault. The court set aside the verdict, freed Willey on bond and ordered a retrial. Willey's attorneys say he had been threatened and say he was lynched. The sheriff says it was a case of suicide.

37 SIGN TO SAIL THE SEA

JUDGE BEN LINDSEY TO JOIN PEACE PARTY

Ford Sees Nothing But Success in the Undertaking.

New York, Nov. 30.—Thus far thirty-seven persons have accepted Henry Ford's invitation to sail Saturday in the peace ship Oscar II, to "get the boys out of the trenches before Christmas." Though no governors have accepted as yet, Lieutenant Governor A. J. Bothea of South Carolina has wired his acceptance.

Among the most prominent persons whose acceptances were announced were Judge and Mrs. Ben B. Lindsey of Denver. Another who accepted was Arthur L. Weatherly of Lincoln, Neb., secretary and treasurer of the Peace Society of Nebraska. Miss Kate Devanoux Blake, a New York teacher, who has been active in suffrage and peace work, also said she would go. Rev. Charles S. Aked of San Francisco wired that he was leaving for New York so as to be sure and catch the ship.

A message from Henry Ford said he saw nothing but success in his great undertaking. He is so arranging his affairs that he may be absent for months if necessary. "The men in the trenches know for what we are working," said Mr. Ford. "I have all faith that on Christmas day the world will be against war—that men will climb from the trenches, throw down their arms and start home. And then militarism will be dead—dead for evermore. A general strike on Christmas day, that is what we want. A general strike all over the world. I don't care what critics say."

OHIOANS REFUSE

Columbus, Nov. 30.—Governor Willis and Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden both definitely declined the invitation that each had tentatively accepted to be a member of the Ford peace party, which is shortly to sail for Europe. Governor Willis, in a final telegram, gave press of duties as the reason for his inability to go. Rev. Dr. Gladden said that illness in his family was the reason that he could not follow his natural inclination to attend.

BABE STILL LIVES

New York, Nov. 30.—The Roberts baby, born defective, is still alive. Its condition is said to be about the same as on the past few days.

Sidney, O., Nov. 30.—Gordon Hathcock, nine, is in a serious condition as the result of a bullet passing through his neck and lodging in his spine. He was shot with a twenty-two caliber rifle by his brother while playing.

Kentuckian Says Tanlac Made Him Improve Rapidly.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 29.—Stomach trouble and rheumatism were the twin bugaboos of A. S. Young a well known contracting carpenter, who lives at 624 York street, Newport, until he took Tanlac, the "Master Medicine." Now, however, it's different, his former trouble having been eliminated by the premier preparation. Mr. Young said:

"I had stomach trouble and rheumatism for a long time and was unable to find relief until I tried Tanlac. I suffered a great deal with pains in the pit of my stomach, dull headaches and nausea. I had very little appetite, and the food that I did eat didn't agree with me. Gas would form in my stomach immediately after eating.

"The rheumatism also caused much annoyance, especially on damp, cool days. My joints and muscles were stiff and ached intensely.

"Tanlac was recommended to me by friends who had been benefitted by its use. I procured a bottle and began improving almost immediately. In fact, I was astonished at the result. In a short time the stomach trouble had been relieved. My appetite now is good and the headaches and nauseated feeling have disappeared. The rheumatism also has been greatly benefitted. Tanlac, in my opinion, is a fine medicine and I'm glad to recommend it to my friends and others."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is now sold in Washington C. H. at Blackmer and Tanguary's Drug Store.

ARRAIGNS TAFT
ANENT REMARKS

Garrison Resents Attack on Philippine Policy.

WAR SECRETARY HITS BACK

Accuses Former President of Having Lent His Name to Statements Mendacious in Character and Mischievous in Intent—Taft Issues Reply In Which He Denies Charge of Partisan Zeal.

Washington, Nov. 30.—A statement was issued by Secretary Garrison arraiguing former President William H. Taft for having lent his name to what are termed "statements mendacious in character and mischievous in intent" with relation to conditions in the Philippine islands under the present administration. Secretary Garrison says, in part:

"It is becoming very plain that the Republican politicians are attempting to lay the foundation for campaign material with respect to the Philippine islands. There have recently appeared a series of interviews or articles exhibiting a shameless intention in this matter. These statements are mendacious in character and mischievous in intent. Many of them proceed from sources so inconsiderable as to carry little, if any, weight, even if uncontroverted. Others, however, are fathered by men whose names and prominence supposedly lend weight to their utterances.

"President Taft, when governor general of the Philippine islands, was the first one to announce that the motto of the American administration was 'the Philippines for the Filipinos.' He properly and bitterly resented criticisms against him for taking this position. No one has so plainly set forth as has former President Taft the malicious misrepresentations, the mendacious statements, and the vicious assaults that proceed from those in the Philippine islands who are not permitted to exploit the natives and the country for their own benefit.

"President Taft was absolutely justified in his bitter denunciations of these attacks, which make it all the more amazing to find him indulging in exactly the same conduct toward those who are now occupying positions of trust and responsibility in the Philippine government."

WHAT TAFT SAYS

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 30.—Ex-President Taft in a formal statement declares that Secretary Garrison has misrepresented his attitude in regard to the present administration's policy in the Philippines. Mr. Taft rebukes the secretary for declaring that the ex-president's "blind partisanship" has led him to declare that the existing government of the Philippines is in a state of demoralization and for intimating that Mr. Taft is not seeking "truth, democracy and fair dealing." The ex-president replies that the secretary's charge of partisanship is "most unwarranted," and that he, Taft, is "not by nature a strong partisan," as shown by his appointment of Democrats "to the great dissatisfaction of my own party associates."

"I have a feeling that in after years," says Mr. Taft, "when Mr. Garrison recurs to this language of his he will regret his vehemence, its epithets and injustice."

Mr. Taft sets forth that he has overwhelming evidence, obtained from many sources—some of the informants' names being given by him and others being withheld to protect them from official displeasure, that the civil service system of the islands has been disrupted, that competent officials have been forced out to let incompetents, and that the general welfare of the Philippines has been seriously affected by the Democratic policy. The ex-president reiterates that the Filipinos are not advanced far enough for governmental independence and announces that he is opposed to the Jones bill.

ROUMANIA ABOUT TO ACT

May Take Sides Against Her Old Enemies, Bulgaria and Turkey—Tonic and Bulgarian Forces Prepare to Meet Russian Invasion. Desperate Fighting All Along the Isonzo—Artillery Duels in France.

London, Nov. 30.—It is believed here that the campaign in the Balkans and near east is about to enter a new phase. General Lord Kitchener has arrived at Paris for an important series of conferences with the French staff, while the German emperor has gone to Vienna to see Emperor Francis Joseph, and discuss with the Austrian generals what the next move will be. Presumably, it is a question whether the central powers will attack Anglo-French forces in southern Serbia or concentrate in western Bulgaria to meet the threat of a Russian invasion from the east and the possibility of Roumania's taking sides against her old enemies, Bulgaria and Turkey.

So far as Serbia is concerned, winter appears virtually to have put an end to any important movements, although the Austrians are proceeding to deal with the Montenegrins, whose frontier they have crossed, while the Bulgarians are attempting to advance to Prisdend and Monastir.

Monastir, is admitted, can not be saved, but the Serbians who are defending the city are determined to resist to the last and give the civilians a chance to escape. They hold a front some five miles from the town in the direction of Prilep, from which point the Bulgarians, who have crossed the Cerassou river, are advancing. Snow has completely stopped operations on the Anglo-French front in Serbia, the opposing forces, who are separated by a valley a mile across, having lost sight of each other.

There are no details of the Greek reply to the collective note of the entente powers demanding facilities for the Anglo-French forces, but a dispatch from Athens says it is couched in friendly terms and is regarded as paving the way for the desired settlement which would enable Greece to maintain her neutrality and not interfere with the intentions of the allies.

Desperate fighting continues on the summits around Gorizia; the Italians claim to have captured more Austrian trenches, but the Austrians declare that the attacks all along the Isonzo have been repulsed.

Artillery and aerial fighting has marked the progress of events in France. In Russia an almost complete lull prevails. In the Caucasus a recrudescence of activity, however, is reported. Petrograd reporting several scouting expeditions.

After clearing the battlefield at Ctesiphon, near Bagdad, in Mesopotamia, the British have again withdrawn to the river. The Turks report that the British were forced to retire by reason of counter attacks after suffering very heavy losses.

SUPPRESSING
STARVATION

London, Nov. 30.—Energetic action is being taken by the German government to stop the reports of starvation which are emanating from that country. Count Von Schöerir Loe-witz, president of the agricultural union, issued a proclamation urging the German population to abstain from complaints, saying: "Complaining is useless and its only result is to rekindle the enemy's hopes of a final victory."

It is stated in the petition filed by Munro that the defendants agreed to the sale of the two plants for the amounts named.

$50,000 BLAZE IN CLEVELAND

By Associated Press.
Cleveland, November 30. — The viaduct power building, adjoining the Superior Avenue viaduct, was badly damaged by fire today, and the viaduct was threatened with destruction.

The loss to the building and a dozen manufacturing concerns which occupy it is estimated at $50,000.

Street car traffic from the west side was detoured for several hours on account of the blaze.

THE IRON MAIDEN.

Her Dread Embrace Meant Cruel and Certain Death.

In an ancient tower at Nuremberg a strange figure is shown to visitors. It is called the Eiserne Jungfrau (Iron Maiden) because it looks like a woman dressed in rusty iron. At about the waist are two handles by means of which the front of the figure is opened on hinges, like two doors, from the chin down, leaving the face unseparated.

The heavy and massive doors bristle inside with spikes as sharp as daggers, about twenty of which point inward toward the chest and two of which, longer than the others, are fixed inside the face behind the eyes.

The Eiserne Jungfrau was an instrument of execution reserved for shameless women. When one of these was condemned to death she was placed inside the figure, and the doors were closed. This forced the spikes into her vital organs and through her eyes into her brain. Death was quick or slow, according to the speed with which the doors were closed.

The base of the figure is a trapdoor. When the doors were opened and the victim freed from the spikes the trapdoor was sprung and her body dropped through a deep hole into a torrent that still flows under the castle. A tip of a few pennings will have the hole lighted with electric lamps, and the visitor can look down and see the dark water, thus completing the tragedy in his imagination.—New York World.

Demonstrations Compared.

"That's what father says," replied the young man. "But father never gets up and cheers when he hears me quoting Latin the way he does when he sees me playing football."—Washington Star

DECATUR (GA.) WOMAN GOOD POSTMISTRESS

Succeeded Her Husband In Cleveland's Days.

Savannah, Ga.—By efficiency which neither Republican nor Democratic administrations can doubt, Mrs. Kate W. Kirkpatrick, postmistress at Decatur, has held office longer than any other postoffice head in the country. When she was recently reappointed on Congressman William Schley Howard's recommendation she had held office for twenty-one years.

Through all that time she has seen that Decatur and all the country round about get its daily mail without trouble or delay and has kept the needs of her community so persistently before the postoffice department that Decatur never fails to get its share of new carriers and equipment, although, of course, it needs any number of things, as all postoffices do.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick's husband was appointed postmaster at Decatur by Grover Cleveland, but he died soon after taking office. Mrs. Kirkpatrick was then commissioned to succeed him, since which time she has continued to do the work he was forced to lay down. In a way it has been a work of love—a work that her husband began and she is completing. But at all times it has been an ambitious effort to make the Decatur postoffice second to none in efficiency.

Though without political influence, never once has she been opposed for office. With simply her record for good work for recommendation, she was re-appointed, once by McKinley, twice by Roosevelt, once by Taft and now by Wilson.

WET GUNCOTTON.

More Stable Than Dry and Explodes Only From a Severe Shock.

Owing to its high percentage of nitrogen oxide, guncotton when exposed to air in a dry state rapidly absorbs oxygen from the air and becomes very dangerous, exploding spontaneously or from slight shock. Dry guncotton in unconfined mass merely burns with a flash like gunpowder, only much more rapidly; it does not exert explosive effect unless confined, as in a shell. In its dry state guncotton is seldom used for primers and detonators, as it is too unstable and will explode with a slight shock or blow.

The guncotton carried aboard war vessels and submarines for the explosive charge of torpedoes is always wet guncotton, kept in air tight containers to prevent evaporation of moisture. Wet guncotton can be exploded only by a severe shock; hence primers or detonators of some more powerful explosive are necessary, these exploding on impact of the torpedo against a ship's side and in turn exploding the guncotton in the war head. Fifty to 100 pounds is the usual charge of a torpedo.

Ordinarily safe if properly stowed away from heat and kept moist, guncotton becomes dangerous from liability to spontaneous explosion when a slight excess of acid is present, and constant and regular tests for acidity are part of the duties of ordnance officers of war vessels and ammunition depots. Guncotton giving a high acid test is promptly condemned and either destroyed or reworked and washed.—American Druggist.

HIS GRAVE HIDDEN.

Burial Place of Revolutionary Soldier Is Unfrequented.

Franklin, Ind.—In a secluded spot in the Glen Park cemetery, four miles east of Greenwood, lies the body of John Parr, who, as far as known, is the only Revolutionary soldier buried in Johnson county. A white stone slab, almost covered with weeds and underbrush, was photographed by visitors at the cemetery, and the headstone revealed the following inscription:

JOHN PARR,
Died Sept. 7, 1850.
Aged 92 years, 2 months 23 days.
He served five years in the army of the Revolution and was in the battles of Monmouth, Brandywine, etc.

Mr. Parr was a relative of the Parris of Johnson county and Newcastle, Ind.

"John was a good man," said the disconsolate widow, "but he was so old fashioned to the last."

"How so?" asked the sympathetic friend.

"Why, he got killed by a runaway horse."—Albany Argus.

EMPIRE THEATER TONIGHT

"Within the Law" a "Thriller" of Latest Out.

In the old days—not so very long ago either—when the playwright took pen in hand to write a melodrama he knew his audience would expect and demand one thing—virtue must triumph. But times have changed in this respect, and the villain that once was hissed is cheered now. This is the day of the "Crook" drama.

Never was a man more heartily applauded than was Joe Garson when he confessed to a police inspector and the audience that it was he who killed a defenseless man. It was in the scene that brought Mr. Bayard Veiller's play, "Within the Law," to an end. It is a "thriller" that has for its heroine a young woman convicted and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary on false evidence, who cleverly arranges her revenge upon the man who accused her by marrying his son, getting him into all sorts of trouble with the police and finally clearing him and herself of any wrong-doing.

"Within the Law" will be seen at the Empire Theater tonight. adv.
